

Cash around the world is piling up. What does it mean?

The “Super Rich” according to marketwatch.com are holding more cash than they have since 2013. People have sold $87.5 billion in stock funds so far in 2019. The mountains of cash are piling up.

- What does all of this mean?
- Why are people selling stocks and building piles of cash?
- What are they afraid of?
- Are stocks a good investment right now?

In today's podcast Brian and Brett answer these questions and more.

Here's to wise investing,

Brian, Brett and the Iron Gate Team

This podcast is for educational purposes and does not constitute a recommendation to buy or sell any investment. Please consult a professional before doing so.