

The art of a successful business owner

Think about some of the most successful business owners that you know. What businesses do they own? How many? Why do we consider them so successful?

In today's podcast we discuss those business owners and what makes them different. How they think about business, how many businesses they own and how are they able to be so successful over time.

Our discussion may surprise you. In fact, you may actually be one of those business owners!

Here's to wise investing,

Iron Gate Global Advisors

Click here to listen and subscribe in iTunes